

Become a teacher through Fortune School of Education's Teacher Credentialing Program!

The best way to learn about Fortune School of Education is to attend an information session, where you can hear details and ask questions about the teacher credential programs, study options, costs, and more.

Information sessions are offered in-person at our Bay Area and Sacramento Campuses.

For more information about the graduate school, check out our video to learn about the steps to earning a teaching credential before attending an information session.
